GROUND-BASED AMBULANCE REPATRIATION

SECURE WITHOUT BORDERS

A broken leg while skiing in Austria but your doctor is on Lake Constance? Borders are not a barrier for us! We know how to handle transnational transports, hence we have been providing our international patient transport services throughout Europe for over a decade now.

Patients who need to be transported on a stretcher for medical reasons or require additional medical care, we use our own ambulances to ensure quick and safe repatriation to a hospital close to home.

GOOD TO KNOW:

We operate specialized ambulances for long-distance transports, which exceed the requirements for standard ambulances, as required in DIN EN 1789, in order to provide professional medical care in case of an emergency. During transport, our patients are looked after by our friendly and experienced medical staff.

There are no limits. Neither for thoughts, nor for feelings.
It is fear that always sets limits.

Ingmar Bergman

CRITICAL-CARE-TRANSPORTS

INTENSIVE CARE IS ALWAYS ON THE GO!

When every minute is precious, we are your partner. Our intensive-care transport vehicles are in fact mobile critical-care-units. They are equipped with far more medical devices than required and utilize the latest in medical technology available for life-threatening conditions. This means we can transfer patients without interrupting life-saving treatment.

Our medical staff consists of critical-care-physicians, with a background from Internal Medicine, Anesthesiology and Surgery; The assisting staff consists of Paramedics and Critical-Care-Nurses.

GOOD TO KNOW

Due to continuous specialization of hospitals and restructuring into medical centers of excellence, these type of transports between specialist hospitals are becoming more and more important in our daily work. Up-to-date equipment and excellent staff guarantee the highest possible transport safety.

AIR AMBULANCE SERVICES

UP IN THE AIR!

Whether it's a critical-care-repatriation from abroad or bringing back ill/injured patients from far away back home, you can count on us. Thanks to a wide range of aircrafts in our fleet, we can offer you the optimum airplane for every transport.

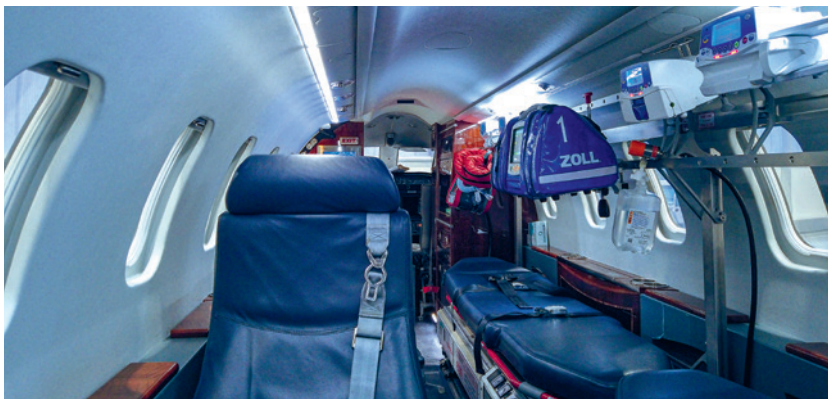

Often the airfields are small, the flight distance very short or relatively long – with a variable approach we offer the most cost-effective and safe solution for our patients.

We like to call our air ambulances „flying critical-care-units“, as they are equipped just like our ground-based intensive care ambulances, e.g. ventilators, monitors, syringe pumps etc. Equipped with the latest medical devices, the medical therapy will be continued during the flight.

GOOD TO KNOW

If there are complications and an emergency arises, trained professionals will provide the best care. We recruit our doctors for air ambulance flights from various specialties (Internal Medicine, Surgery, Anesthesiology, Pediatrics etc.) as well as Paramedics and Critical-Care-Nurses, depending on the patient's needs. Two professional commercial-pilots are responsible for a safe take-off, comfortable flight and smooth landing.

Most people spend more time and energy beating around problems than trying to tackle them.

COMMERCIAL AIRLINE REPATRIATIONS:

IF THE CRANE CALLS

Like always, it depends on the right partner. We offer our customers a wide range of options for repatriating patients from abroad on a commercial airline and bring them home safely. Our in-house travel agency for example is available for you 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

In close consultation with the medical operations departments of the respective airline, the experienced employees of our own travel agency clarify around the clock whether and how a patient can be optimally transported utilizing a commercial aircraft, alongside normal passengers.

We handle all the necessary requirements for you in timely fashion. You do not have to worry about anything. The options regarding the repatriation via commercial airlines are not limited to the usual seats in economy-, business- or the generously sized first class, we can also have access to advanced alternatives, including a stretcher. A stretcher can usually be installed in the economy class of the aircraft, with a curtain around it and offers the patient an opportunity to lay comfortably during flight.

Good to know: The flight is far less expensive than repatriation via an air ambulance. Depending on the illness or injury, we can always offer a wide range of options for the optimal transport modality of the respective patient. Non-stop-care is provided by our flight-experienced medical staff, of course.

TIGIS N20 Rettungswagen

Mit dem TIGIS N20 entstand ein völlig neuer und einzigartiger Wechselkoffer, welcher höchste Sicherheitsmaßstäbe setzt. Seine herausragende Qualität macht den TIGIS N20 wirtschaftlich wie nie. Hohe Ausfallzeiten werden durch einen Kofferwechsel in unter 5h erheblich minimiert. So fallen für unsere Kunden ebenfalls keine hohen Kosten für die Leihgebühr eines Ersatzfahrzeuges an. Der TIGIS N20 ist eine Investition, die sich bezahlt macht.

Bakterien- und Virenfilter

Unser TIGIS N20 ermöglicht den Transport hochinfektöser Patienten. Die speziell entwickelte Filteranlage reinigt die Patientenraumluft, um die Bakterien- und Virenbelastung bei der RTW-Besatzung so minimal wie möglich zu halten. Die verwendeten Filter entfernen zu 99,995 % Bakterien, Pilze, Sporen, toxischen Staub sowie Viren aus der gefilterten Luft und somit sinkt das Infektionsrisiko.
